(Applies to all commissions)

Resolution 1, October 2013 NEC

WHEREAS, Pursuant to resolution adopted by the National Executive Committee at its meeting held November 18-20, 1948, liaison committees appointed from the personnel of the National Executive Committee were created to serve with the various standing commissions in order to establish the closest relationship between such commissions and the National Executive Committee; and

WHEREAS, Although said procedure has proved its value, it is believed that such liaison can be effectively continued by the appointment, without duplication, of such members from the National Executive Committee to serve as a liaison with each of said commissions; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, By the National Executive Committee that the national commander each year appoint, without duplication, members from the National Executive Committee to serve as a liaison with the following standing commissions:

Americanism Commission
Convention Commission
Finance Commission
Internal Affairs Commission
Legislative Commission
Media & Communications Commission
National Security Commission
Veterans Affairs & Rehabilitation Commission
Veterans Employment & Education Commission

And be it further

RESOLVED, That such appointments shall be made annually at the fall meeting of the National Executive Committee, and the appointees shall serve until adjournment of the fall meeting held during the following year, provided that in the event of the termination of membership on the National Executive Committee of any member so appointed, such appointment shall automatically terminate, and the vacancy shall be filled by the national commander then in office, from membership of the National Executive Committee; and be it further

RESOLVED, That all prior resolutions in conflict herewith be and they are hereby revoked.

Resolution No. 1 National Convention 2015

WHEREAS, Article I, Section 6, of the National By-laws, which currently reads:
Section 6. There shall be the following standing commissions: Americanism Commission, Convention Commission, Finance Commission, Internal Affairs Commission, Legislative Commission, Media & Communications Commission, National Security Commission, Veterans Affairs & Rehabilitation Commission, Veterans Employment & Education Commission. The commissions shall consist of such number of members of The American Legion as the National Executive Committee may from time to time determine. Appointments to such commissions shall be made by the National Executive Committee upon nomination by the National Commander. The National Executive Committee is empowered to assign duties and responsibilities to all standing commissions and committees and to group standing committees with commissions for the purpose of efficient supervision and coordination of activities; and

WHEREAS, The National Executive Committee recommended the Marketing Committee become the Marketing Commission; and

WHEREAS, This recommendation is hereby accepted, which means the provisions of the National By-laws, Article I, Section 6 must be amended; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, By The American Legion in National Convention that Article I, Section 6, of the National Bylaws, be amended to read as follows:

Section 6. There shall be the following standing commissions: Americanism Commission, Convention Commission, Finance Commission, Internal Affairs Commission,

Legislative Commission, Marketing Commission, Media & Communications Commission, National Security Commission, Veterans Affairs & Rehabilitation Commission, Veterans Employment & Education Commission. The commissions shall consist of such number of members of The American Legion as the National Executive Committee may from time to time determine. Appointments to such commissions shall be made by the National Executive Committee upon nomination by the National Commander. The National Executive Committee is empowered to assign duties and responsibilities to all standing commissions and committees and to group standing committees with commissions for the purpose of efficient supervision and coordination of activities.

Opinion Rendered by National Judge Advocate, October 28, 1970 Re: NEC Liaison Committee Members voting on commission

“Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the National Executive Committee in regular meeting assembled in Indianapolis, November 1949, liaison committees were appointed from the personnel of the National Executive Committee to serve with the various standing commissions in order to establish as close as possible a relationship between said commissions and the National Executive Committee. Members of the National Executive Committee Liaison Committee have a voice in the affairs of the commission to which they are liaison. However, since the liaison is a member of the National Executive Committee and has a vote in that body, which is superior to the commission to which he is liaison, he has not been given a vote in the commission to which he acts as liaison. As a general rule, members of the National Executive Committee Liaison Committees have a voice but no vote.”

EX-OFFICIO MEMBERS

(Applies to all commissions and committees)

Opinion Rendered by National Judge Advocate, October 1, 1969

It is my opinion, for reasons which I shall state herein below, that ex-officio members of national commissions are entitled to voice and vote on the commissions of which they are ex-officio members.

Page 570 of the publication "Parliamentary Law," by General Henry M. Robert, contains the following statement, which I quote:

"Ex-Officio means 'from the office,' or 'by virtue of the office.' Thus if the bylaws make the president of the society president ex-officio of the board of managers, it means that the society's president, by virtue of that office, is also president of the board of managers. The moment he ceases to be president of the society he automatically ceases to be president of the board. A member or officer ex-officio is as much a member or officer as if elected to the position."

Robert's Rules of Order Revised (75th Anniversary Edition), Section 51, page 210, contains the following statement:

"51. Ex-Officio Members of Boards and Committees. Frequently boards and committees include some members who are members by virtue of their office, and, therefore, are termed ex-officio members. When such a member ceases to hold the office, his membership on the board terminates automatically. If the ex-officio member is under the control of the society, there is no distinction between him and the other members except where the president is ex-officio member of all committees, in which case it is evidently the intention to permit, not to require, him to act as a member of the various committees, and, therefore, in counting a quorum, he should not be counted as a member. The president is not a member of a committee except by virtue of a special rule, unless he is so appointed by the assembly. If the ex-officio member is not under the authority of the society, he has all the privileges, including the right to vote, but none of the obligations of membership; as when the governor of a state is, ex-officio, a manager or a trustee of a private academy."

This ruling does not apply to paid national staff, such as the national treasurer or the national judge advocate, who are not permitted to vote as ex-officio members according to Resolution No. 34 adopted by the May 2012 NEC.

NATIONAL COMMANDER'S REPRESENTATIVES

(Applies to all Commissions and committees)

Resolution 35, October 1968 NEC

WHEREAS, Questions have arisen pertaining to the status and rights of national commander's representatives on the several national commissions, committees and other appointive bodies; and

WHEREAS, It is necessary that these questions be clarified by the National Executive Committee; and

WHEREAS, The National Commander's Advisory Committee has examined this problem in depth and has agreed that representatives of the national commander on national appointive bodies should exercise all the rights and privileges of members of such bodies; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That persons named as national commander's representatives to national commissions, committees, and other bodies of the national organization shall have the same rights and privileges as the appointed members of such bodies, including the right of voice and vote when present at a duly called meeting of said bodies; and, be it further

RESOLVED, That the foregoing clarification of the status of national commander's representatives be included in the publication entitled "Outline of Authorization, Membership and Purpose for Commission and Committees of the National Organization of The American Legion" when next issued.

CONSULTANTS and ADVISORS

(Applies to all commissions and committees)

Opinion Rendered by National Judge Advocate, April 25, 2012

“At the national level, it has been the practice to deny consultants and advisors to commissions and committees a vote, while allowing them voice in matters pertinent to their area of expertise. I would advise that this practice continue.”

(This opinion supersedes any previous contradictory opinions as to consultants and advisors.)

APPOINTMENT OF NATIONAL COMMANDER'S REPRESENTATIVES, CONSULTANTS AND ADVISORS

(Applies to all commissions and committees)

There is authorized to be affiliated with each standing commission and committee one national commander's representative who shall serve with voice and vote as specified in Resolution No. 35 of the National Executive Committee, October 16-17, 1968, and such number of consultants and advisors as are deemed appropriate and necessary, who shall serve with voice but not vote as stated in an opinion rendered by the national judge advocate, April 25, 2012.

HONORARY MEMBERS

(Applies to all commissions and Membership & Post Activities Committee)

Honorary Members: There is authorized to be affiliated, with all standing commissions and the Membership & Post Activities Committee, honorary members who have no specific duties except those that may be assigned from time to time by their department. These honorary members are not listed in the national commission and committee book, have no duties at the national level, and are never called in to national meetings. Upon request, a form will be sent from the national commander's office to the department so it may name honorary members. Copies of the nomination letter will be prepared at National Headquarters and sent to the department for dissemination. There is no limit on the number of honorary members a department may nominate.
