The American Legion's 10th Membership Aerial Round-up, which started the postwar renewal of this annual affair designed to enrich the interest of the American Legion and membership, was a tremendous success on both counts this year.

Despite bad weather conditions that would not permit planes to leave the ground in many parts of the country, and which grounded seven that did start, before they could complete the journey, many planes played their way in, and the membership total was a tremendous success on both counts this year.

High Court's Ruling Calls For New Law

Congress Asked to Amend Act to Restore Rights to Vets

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The American Legion has taken its first step toward obtaining re-employment rights of veterans, as the Supreme Court issued a decision in a case which could open the way to national legislation. The decision will be binding on all the states.

In its letter, the court asked that in consideration of the adverse ruling by the Supreme Court, it would be in accordance with the law to grant special enforcement of the court's decision, in an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. The decision will be binding on all the states.

Review of Congressional Situation Shows Status of Measures of Interest to Veterans for Which Legion Sull Battles

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sporting three new legislative legs—two on a bill to provide veterans new priorities and another for their exhaustive efforts transformed into glittering triumphs—the American Legion today secured a key vote on the House of Representatives.

President Truman recently signed legislation to give veterans a pension in lieu of the jeep, the long sought war surplus vehicles, the long awaited deal for enlisted veterans, and a new hope for the one armed veteran.

The legislation met with unexpected opposition in the Administration and other veterans' organizations, but the House voted to submit all alleged violators of the new law to the House's own determination.

The House has recently that it is no longer accepting applications for automobiles or typewriters. It has also increased the allotment of war surplus vehicles, and made it impossible for the House to meet the avalanche of demand.

A report from the Dir. sale of surplus property indicates that over 75 per cent were sold to veterans and their dependents, and that 20 per cent to federal and state agencies.

A total of 2,000 veterans purchased a total of 12,000 jeeps at a 20-ton Diesel tractor.

Housing Bill Passed

Another major victory for veterans was recorded with the signing of the Housing Bill, which will provide 48,000 new homes for veterans.

The House of Representatives, following the lead of the Senate, has approved the use of federal money to build the needed homes.

Finance Bill Approved

Another major legislation is expected to pass in the near future. It is the Finance Bill which will provide for the operation of government on a sound financial basis.

By FERRIS R. THOMASSEN

Headquarters Notes is a platform forguest writers who have been selected by the national headquarters of the Sons of the American Legion. Thomassen has spent two years of his life in the military, and his experiences have taught him about the importance of properly raising the standard of the Legion, to ensure that it stands tall as a symbol of honor and respect. The Legion is a place where every son has a place and where they can find a sense of belonging.

In this edition of Headquarters Notes, we have an article from Thomassen titled "The Importance of Proper Raising of the Standard of the Legion." This article focuses on the significance of the Legion as a symbol of honor and respect, and the importance of raising it properly to ensure that it stands tall as a symbol of admiration and respect. Thomassen highlights the role of the Legion in promoting a sense of belonging for every son, and emphasizes the importance of raising the standard with pride and respect.

He concludes the article by emphasizing the value of the Legion as a symbol of honor and respect, and the importance of raising it properly to ensure that it stands tall as a symbol of admiration and respect. He encourages all members of the Legion to take pride in their membership and to work together to ensure that the Legion continues to be a symbol of honor and respect.

It is the duty and obligation of every member of the American Legion to see to it that our organization is a leader in its field and helps to build our American organization which will continue to prosper. We have an organization that can stand alone—the one and only logical organization which can save the life of a nation has its roots in our young people. Every American Legion post in the United States can ensure that the subsequent generations of the sons of American Legionnaires will be ready to take over where we leave off—our organization, our ideals and our legion. With the help of the Sons of the American Legion, the future will be assured.

Six-Wheek Drive for Home Fund Succeeds

Fred E. Robert, Post 479, Catasauqua, Pa., New York attorney who saw military service with men from Greene County, Oklahoma, told the American Legion State Convention at Kansas City that the government was raising a fund to build a new Legion home so be sent a donation. The Oklahoma boys, he said, had never been out of state and therefore he felt it was the least he could do to get to the east—sent fields two pounds of Green county butter. That seemed to hit such a responsive chord that they sent it to me. All Major Veterans' Organizations Join the Legion in Endorsement of Measure that Now Replaces HR 515 in Program

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Legislation to afford the nation a National Security Training Corps to accomplish universal military training was introduced in the House of Representatives on April 8, 1944, at the request of The American Legion's National Security Committee, and referred to the House Military Affairs Committee.

This is a comprehensive plan to supplant the original Legion-sponsored HR 515, which provided the framework of the proposed system.

Plans for the new bill were drafted during the recent conference in May of Past National Commander Warren R. Atherton, Chairman of the National Security Committee, William H. Doyle, Chairman of the National Legislative Committee, S. Perry Brown, Chairman of the National Legislative Committee, R. H. Magr. Edward J. Smith, Assistant National Commander John Stier, and Paul M. Cannon, Legislative Director of The American Legion, upon recommendation of the National Security Committee, to follow up progress of the bill closely from the time it was introduced until it reaches the floor of Congress. A strong support should lift legislation to a beneficial development.

Legislative Booking

The American Legion is joined in endorsement of the new bill by other major veterans' organizations, also by the representatives of the Reserve Officers Association. The legislation is the result of the combined efforts of the executive committee of The American Legion and a number of other major veterans' organizations, also by the Reserve Officers Association.

The proposed measure has been developed as a result of recommendations by the Reserve Officers Association, also the National Guard Association, the Legion's National Security Committee, the American Legion Auxiliary, and the American Legion, as well as the National Guard Association, also the Reserve Officers Association, and the American Legion.

The proposed system is a comprehensive plan to supplant the original Legion-sponsored HR 515, which provided the framework of the proposed system.

SERVICE PLAN TO REACH ALL VETS

The American Legion in Chattanooga, Tenn., has organized a city-wide service committee, which operates in five zones within which the city has been divided. A full-time worker and 20 workers, and it is planned that each officer in every service zone in each zone will be assigned to the services of the community. The plan is that they be highly trained in the way they can help.

In April 1946, the Legion's Past National Commander, John D. Smith, met with the leadership of the American Legion, along with other major veterans' organizations, to review the progress of the bill. The bill was introduced by Past National Commander John D. Smith, and was referred to the House Military Affairs Committee.

The proposed measure has been developed as a result of recommendations by the Reserve Officers Association, also the National Guard Association, the Legion's National Security Committee, the American Legion Auxiliary, and the American Legion.

The proposed system is a comprehensive plan to supplant the original Legion-sponsored HR 515, which provided the framework of the proposed system.

Congress Will Investigate the War Surplus Situation

American Legion Had Author Action and Supported the Resolution Which Calls for a Continuous Check on Sales and Records

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Another legislative triumph was re- corded by The American Legion with the announcement that an act known as the War Surplus Military Security Act was ap- pointed a five-man committee to investigate disposi- tion of sur- plus property, a resolution accorded support by solely the Le- gion in the veterans field.

Speaker Bayh announced that the committee headed by Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, D., Md., awaited the resolution and urged that Congress act promptly on the amendment and complete rec-ords on government disposal of property, as well as the location and dates of all sales, and recorded actions.

The legislative chief also maintained that Congress had no monopoly on the war, and would not be allowed to 'lose' or destroyed before Congress could have a chance to investigate the war record, and be in a position to change laws, and correct information that is to be incorporated in the resolution in the accepted form.
