What: Deeply concerned about reports of fraudulent patient waiting lists, unacceptable wait times, denial of medical services, and a lack of accountability at Veterans Affairs Medical Centers across the country, American Legion National Commander Daniel Dellinger and The American Legion System Worth Saving Task Force have also found cases where patient satisfaction was high and VA was meeting the needs of its population in a professional and ethical manner.

National Commander Dellinger and guest panelists are welcoming interested shareholders (veterans) and their families to share their experiences and concerns at the town hall. Commander Dellinger will take these concerns and experience with him when he testifies before Congress, Thursday, May 15.
